Certification rules (scheme)

➤ 1) Organic products list

Only listed products can be certified. Generally it covers food, feeds and textile.

New products can be added every year if they get approved by China Organic Expert Group

➤ 2) Certification scopes

Production, processing (labeling site included) and handling

Certification rules (scheme)

➤ 3) Analysis

Environment analysis (water, soil and air) and products (every year and every listed product)

Products samples should be taken by inspectors on site or take samples from the market

CNCA published products testing guidance for 6 products categories:

Tea

Chinese Traditional Medicine (plant origin)

Certification rules (scheme)

➤ 4) Small group inspection

Agricultural cooperative organizations, or “company + farmer” organizations)

An assessment of the internal management

Square root of the number of farms number will be inspected if

> 10 —————→ No less than the square root of the number of farmers should be inspected

≤ 10 —————→ All the farmers need to be inspected.

Certification rules (scheme)

➤ 5) inspection of organic in conversion

The start date of the conversion period for organic product certification shall not be earlier than the acceptance date of application by the certification body.

For foreign planting bases that have obtained foreign organic product certification for more than 4 years (including 4 years) of imported organic products, and the certification body confirms that it meets the requirements of GB/T 19630, it can exempt the conversion based on the risk assessment period.

If not at least one year of conversion period will be required

- The standard-GB/T 19630 2019 is similar to EU 834 and NOP
- Differences are in the list of inputs allowed in organic farming/ processing additives and aids.

Please contact me for English version of standard or you can find more in the internet

2. China organic labeling & TC requirements

The handler of certified products shall put the certification label of Chinese organic products and its organic code as well as the name/logo of the certification body on the certified products or their smallest sales packages.
